15 October 2017

A big welcome if you are new to Emmanuel.

Please say hello to one of our clergy, wardens or stewards as they would love to meet you and give you a welcome booklet which tells you a bit about us.

Revealing Jesus

There are people you meet sometimes in life who seem somehow different. There's something about them that makes you want to be around them, something good and beautiful seems to pour out of them, something you can't quite put your finger on. They seem to glow from the inside out and something in you longs to experience that beauty, that goodness, that life.

I recently met one such person. Everything about her was kind and good, she made me want to be around her and she made me want to be like her, to have what she has. And I knew, straight away, what it was that I saw in her - it was Jesus. As a Christian, when I am in the presence of someone who so clearly shines Jesus it really challenges me. It makes me question whether I reveal Jesus like that, or whether people just see me. I long to be the kind of person that radiates Jesus, that when people see me they see Jesus, someone who is so deeply rooted in Jesus that His life flows out of me. But I am all too aware of how far this is from my reality. Being a nice, friendly person is fine, but it's not enough. In Matthew 5 Jesus tells us that we are here to be light, to "bring out the God-colours in the world", to shine and be generous with our lives, because by doing that people will see Jesus and they will want to know Him.

I always thought that this was simple - that I'm supposed to love God, love others and show them Jesus. And it is simple, but it is also my greatest challenge as a Christian. Because to reflect Jesus I need to be like Him and that is no easy task because I am selfish, insecure, I want to please people, I want to be liked and too often I spend more time in the 'world' than with Jesus. I try to be more like Jesus, I pray every day and I read the Bible regularly, but people like my friend who emanate Him remind me what it's really about, they remind me of what I'm so often missing. It's that deeply personal, life-changing, fully alive and tangibly real relationship with Jesus where He is my priority, my purpose, my everything. Unless He becomes the sole focus of my life I will only ever flicker, but God's call for me - for us - is to shine brightly, because when we do we bring the hope, life and love of Jesus to this broken and hurting world. It is still a challenge I face daily but one I do not face alone. We as a family, as a church, do this together. We speak truth, we challenge, encourage, inspire and spur one another on to look more like Jesus and to be the light in the darkness of this world.

Daily Bible Readings

To grow in our Christian life we need food. Reading the Bible gives us the food that our spirit needs to flourish. Just as our body can't live without food, our spirit cannot live without the word of God.

If you read the Bible and take time to be with God each day your relationship with God will stay fresh and alive. We hope the readings below will help in this.
